A creative team of three sausage musketeers, all with a passion for the finer things in life, making inspired charcuterie on the South East coast.

Our process begins by sourcing the best produce we can find, this means high welfare, free range, local and happy animals.

From the outset we've been conscious of how we could have our products in a marketplace without the use of single use plastics. It has been a personal mission and we are pleased to say that all our products are packaged in biodegradable and ocean friendly materials and are working on our entire process to be as planet friendly as possible.
